

Current Student Discounts for Office 2007 Professional

Disclaimer: These discounts are listed here as a convenience for Business Division students. This list will be updated as student discount information is learned, but students should be aware that any promotion listed here may have been discontinued. Also, other current student discount promotions may be available that are not known by the division and are not included on this list.

List price for Office 2007 Professional Edition (which includes Word, Excel, Access, and PowerPoint): $499.95

Offer #1:

60-day free trial version of Office Professional 2007 to download from Microsoft at:
<http://us1.trymicrosoftoffice.com/product.aspx?sku=3203819&culture=en-US>

Microsoft states on its website what will happen once the 60 days expire:

As you reach the end of the time allowed to evaluate a Trial version, you receive reminders each time that you start the product. The Activation Wizard reminds you that your Trial is coming to an end, and asks if you want to convert to the Full product. If you don't convert to the Full product by the end of the Trial version's time limit, the software runs in Reduced Functionality mode.

Offer #2:

120-day trial version of Office 2007 Professional for $19.95 at the CLC Bookstore (located behind the counter).

The software also comes with cheat sheets+showing common commands for Word, Excel, Access and PowerPoint.

Once the 120 days are over, the student will have to either reinstall the old version of Office that was running on the computer or purchase the full version of Office Professional 2007. The 120-day trial version can only be installed on a computer once.

Offer #3:

“The Ultimate Steal”

This is a student promotion that will allow students to purchase Office Ultimate Edition 2007 (which has many more programs than Word, Excel, Access, and PowerPoint) for $59.95. This promotion can be found at: <http://www.microsoft.com/student/discounts/theultimatesteal-us/default.aspx>.

To purchase Office Ultimate2007 at this price, you will need to supply your LancerMail e-mail address to Microsoft to verify that you are a currently-enrolled college student. Once you purchase Office Ultimate 2007 from the Microsoft website you will be able to download the software. It is strongly advised that you do not download the software if you have dial-up Internet service. It has been reported by student that the download using dial-up has taken over 14 hours! You can purchase Office Ultimate 2007 on CDs that can be shipped to you for a nominal extra charge (it is suggested that students who do download the software also order the CDs).

Offer #4:

The CLC Bookstore is selling Office Professional 2007 for $100 while supplies last. The software is located behind the counter. Once the supplies are gone, the Bookstore sells Office Professional 2007 for $199.99 (still a great deal over list price).

Offer #5:

Website www.JourneyEd.com always has great deals for students on Office 2007 and other software. Check out their website to see their current promotions.
